

Remarks/Arguments:

Claims 61, 66-69 and 85 have been rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Zahn for the reasons set forth below.

Applicants' invention, as recited by claim 61, includes a feature which is neither disclosed nor suggested by Zahn, namely:

...an actuator which... moves... to... pull said head feature in a linear direction as said moveable feature moves in a direction different than said linear direction.

This is illustrated, for example, by Applicants' Figures 33-36. In the example, as "feature" 1060 moves in a linear direction, the "moveable feature" 1305 moves in a direction different than the linear direction to pull the "feature" in the linear direction. Put another way, note how pin 1060 moves in one direction while receptacle 1300, with appropriate feature, moves in a different direction.

This is different than Zahn. In Zahn, feature 18 moves in the same direction as item 17 to pull item 17 inward.

Accordingly, Applicants' claim 61 is patentable over the art of record.

Applicants' claim 85, while not identical to claim 61, is also patentable over the art of record for reasons similar to those set forth above with regard to claim 61.

Numerous claims were indicated as being allowable if rewritten in independent form. Those claims have been appropriately amended.

Claims 50-60 now depend on an allowable independent claim. Allowance of claims 50-60 is respectfully requested.

Claim 68 has been objected to and has been appropriately amended.

In view of the amendments and the arguments set forth above, the above-identified application is in condition for allowance which action is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

Lawrence E. Ashery, Reg. No. 34,515
